

CYPRESS

Known as “The Wood Eternal”, Cypress has been the wood of choice for millennia. Cathedral doors from the Middle Ages are still in use today. Cypressine, a naturally occurring oil in Cypress, provides good resistance to insects and decay, making Cypress an excellent choice for indoor and outdoor applications.

APPLICATIONS

Cypress’ versatility allows for a wide variety of uses, both indoor and out.

INDOORS – uses include flooring, cabinetry, wall paneling, ceiling paneling and wainscoting. Available in a rough sawn finish which provides a rustic look or mill to a smooth surface for a more pristine look.

OUTDOORS – uses include roof decking, house siding (in a wide variety of patterns), porch ceilings, pergolas, gazebos and decks.
